Is the old hen more valuable than the horse? With three dozen eggs it is said you can buy a whole barrel of corn on the New York market.

A good wife sent her husband off to market with a basket of eggs and among the items of merchandise he was to bring home in exchange for the eggs was an automobile.

Buckingham

We are now to have an iron bridge across North river near Mr. John Glover's place; the material was put in place Saturday and the work will be pushed right along, and travelers will be glad to know that a temporary bridge has been put across the river to be used while the new bridge is in course of erection

I saw a man returning from market the past week; he had sold logs for 50 cents a hundred and he looked the picture of dejection. Good tobacco, however, sold as high as $10, and I hear that some sold in Farmville as high as $20

Messrs. Thomas B Hall and J F Andrews attended the Farmers' Union meeting in Lynchburg last week. Farmers here are very much interested in the scheme for each one to sign a pledge that he will not plant any tobacco next year, provided dealers do not fix upon a reasonable scale of prices for the tobacco now on hand.

I asked the price of salt at four different stores the past week; at two stores the price was $1.75 per 100 pounds, at another, $1.85 and at still another the price was $1.50

One of my neighbors shipped a large beef hide and he paid 50 cents for a receptacle to put the hide in; after paying express and commission he got just 60 cents for the hide. A colored man shipped a hide and the commission merchant sent him 30 cents in stamps to pay for it. And yet I paid $10 for a pair of leather shoes. Something is wrong somewhere

Good beef selling here for 10 cents pound, sugar selling at 11 cents in some places and 9 cents in others

I started to say that whiskey was being used by people who I see intoxicated, but I really do not know what they drink nor where they get it; but they show plainly enough the effects of what they drink.

A young man told me of late that his father told him if he didn't know anything good to say of anyone to say nothing at all, and he said he was making this a rule in life and found it not only was right but from a business standpoint it paid. As a rule I am glad to say the young people here are well-mannered, and a number of them show good breeding, but I also regret to notice that a few are wanting in deference to their elders, they are surely wanting in respect to their parents, and they seem to cultivate a flippant, "don't care" manner, that they will live to see was altogether "disright" and "unpretty" when they arrive at years of discretion—if they ever do. All this is said in a spirit of kindness, and I have been pleased to notice a change for the better among certain people who have had a gentle reminder handed to them in this correspondence

I notice people driving across the long new bridge near here with horses in a trot. We all remember to have seen signs like this posted at each end of a bridge—"$5 fine for driving across this bridge faster than a walk." I think the board of supervisors would realize that the structure will remain intact much longer if they would enforce such a regulation.

Mr. Reuben Johns has been ill of pneumonia at the home of Mr. A C Garnett here and his devoted mother has been at his bedside and Dr. Morris is his physician

The high school here will close on Dec. 23 and reopen on January 3

Forest View

News is scarce; but, however, some of the subscribers will be glad to hear from old Falling.

Messrs. Harry and Frank Nash, Curtis Martin, Elliott Marshall and Perlie Jones took tobacco to South Boston last week on trucks. They reported so much tobacco on market and medium prices. Messrs T. H. Ford and son, Jim Bob, and DeWitt Marshall took a load to Brookneal and reported the same.

Mr. Douglas Martin, wife and little girl, Dorothy, of Penniman, Va., are on a visit to his parents, Mr and Mrs. R W. Martin, near Spring Mills

Miss Pauline Marshall is improving fast, after her operation in Richmond, and is expected home soon.

Miss Mary Lizzie Marshall, who has been in Lynchburg taking doctor's treatment, returned home last week much improved

Mr. A. S. Wooldrige killed a fine hog last week; he invited four soldier boys that went to France to help him — Dean Pugh, Travis and Wiley Wooldrige and Julian Pugh. After they finished, they were invited in to an old-fashioned Virginia dinner. All seemed to enjoy it, and were highly interested in hearing each one relate war stories, while they ate nice apples, etc.

Mr. R. W. Martin has been very sick the past week with the old fashioned lagrippe, but is somewhat better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Moses and baby, Carl, visited her sister, Mrs. John Marshall, a few days ago.

Messrs. Curtis Martin, DeWitt Marshall, Perlie, Jesse and Otey Jones; Misses Ebeth Ford and Bessie Martin were the guests of Miss Lelia Jones on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Foster have two children with the pneumonia; they have just gotten over the whooping cough. We hope for them a speedy recovery. Mrs. Foster's mother, Mrs. Hop Ferguson, spent last week with them.

Subscribers to the Times-Virginian, wake up! and send in a correspondence, so we can hear from each other everywhere.

S E Anderson, agent of the Board to look after the repairing of the fill at Bent creek bridge, made a final report to the Board, which the Board accepted

Whereas, under the law the County Treasurer is entitled to have an office furnished him, which office is on the northern wing of the courthouse; and

Whereas, since Mr. Burke's incumbency in office as treasurer he has not used this office and the same has been used part of the time by courtesy of Mr. Burke by H D Flood and was then turned over to S. L. Ferguson by courtesy of Mr. Burke since his election and qualification as State senator, which vacated his office as Commonwealth's attorney; and

Whereas, the offices in the Clerk's office building had been formerly occupied since their completion by H D Flood as Commonwealth's attorney, and then by Mr. Ferguson, who succeeded him; and

Whereas, J W Flood has succeeded Mr. Ferguson as Commonwealth's attorney, and by mutual agreement between him and J W Flood, with the consent of Mr. Burke and the Board, Mr. Ferguson has made an exchange whereby Mr. Flood would use the Treasurer's office by courtesy of Mr. Burke and Mr. Ferguson would continue to use the office formerly occupied by him as Commonwealth's attorney, on account of his attachment for said office, he having used them for a period of 18 years or more; and

Whereas, J W Flood has made some permanent improvements to the office of the Treasurer, which was done with the consent of Mr. Burke and the Board, amounting to $80, which the Board has paid, and by said agreement S L Ferguson agrees to reimburse the Board, which he has done; and

Whereas, Mr. Ferguson expressed a desire to pay for the light service and coal used by him since he vacated said office as Commonwealth's attorney, and for whatever rent the Board deemed would be right and just; but on account of the services which said Ferguson has voluntarily rendered the county and the Board in the past and while he was Commonwealth's attorney—the matter being a small one—the Board had no desire to make any charge for the little expense on account of light service and coal used by him up until January 1, 1921, after which time, however, he will personally take care of these items of expense, he to account for no rent for said office on account of the exchange made, and which settlement and exchange is unanimously approved by the Board, the same to continue until the further order of the Board. Leave is also given S L Ferguson by the Board to build at his own expense for his use, a coal house adjacent to and south of the present coal house building on the courthouse square.

R F Burke, County Treasurer, appeared before the Board and returned cancelled warrants, jury tickets and other proper vouchers paid by him since his last return of warrants, amounting to $5054 26 which the Board accepted, and the Clerk of the Board is ordered to credit his account with said County Treasurer accordingly.
